Instructions for Authors

Proceedings of the Indian National Science Academy is an inter-disciplinary journal devoted to publication of review papers, original research articles, short communications, commentaries, lateral thinking and emerging techniques in the areas of Physical, Biological, Applied sciences and also Engineering. There are four issues of the Journal published in March, June, September and December.

Four copies of the manuscripts complete with figures, tables and any other material (one original and three copies) may be submitted to the Editor-in-Chief, Proceedings of Indian National Science Academy, Indian National Science Academy, Bahadur Shah Zafar Marg, New Delhi-110 002.

Authors are requested to provide their complete postal address with email, Fax, Telephone nos. in the MSS which will facilitate further correspondences. The manuscript may be prepared in double spacing on A4 size paper (to be typed on one side only) by using word processing software such as MS Word with Times New Roman font (font size 12). For line diagrams and similar illustrations, computer graphics like Corel Draw, Harvard Graphics, preferably any compatible format software (jpg) may be used. The spellings should be according to Oxford Dictionary. Authors may also submit an electronic version of the manuscript on a diskette, preferably on a CD. Electronic version can be directly submitted by using the Internet at the following e-mail address : procinsa@insa.nic.in;

Size

The average size of review articles is approximately 80 MSS pages including figures, tables and references. The length of average research paper will be 20 MSS pages. Short communications of up to 12 MSS pages are welcome.

Title, Key Words, Abstract/Summary, Text, Tables, Illustrations

The title should reflect the broad area of the paper and should be concise and brief. In case of unavoidable long titles, a short running title may be provided by the author(s). Six to nine important Key Words may be provided for indexing and for convenient retrieval.

An abstract containing title, authors' names and affiliations and a brief summary of the contents of less than 250 words may be supplied on a separate page. The manuscript may be divided into sections preferably starting with Introduction and ending with Conclusions followed by Acknowledgements, if any. Results of all measurements must be expressed in SI Units. All tables must be prepared on separate sheets of paper. These may be numbered serially and brief titles in italics may be included on the top of the table. Non-standard abbreviations may not be included and need to be defined at the bottom of the table, if unavoidable. Line diagrams prepared by computer graphics as mentioned above and printed by using high quality laser printers and glossy prints of photographs may be supplied. Particular attention should be paid to the sharpness of photographs in 600 dpi. Care should be taken on the width of the lines and the size of the letters in line diagrams, as the illustrations will be fitted in a single column width of 75 mm. In exceptional cases, the width can be 150 mm. A scale should indicate magnifications of photographs.
